HOW A SCHOOLMASTER CHECKS SWEARING.

From The Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

From The Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

Samuel Roop, the teacher recently appointed by the school directors of Claymont to take charge of the school at that place, has infroduced some novel hethods of punishment to control the wild and unruly lovs that come to him for instruction. He does not believe in the use of the rod, but some of his methods of punishment are hardly less severe.

He found that the use of profane language was general among the boys who attended his school, and he intended to put a stop to it. Any boy caught swearing is now brought up before him and after school his mouth is washed out with a sponge and water, and then the teacher scrapes the swearing tongue with a knife.

Nearly every night after school closes Teacher Roop has half a dozen or more mosiths to wash out and tongues to scrape, and one of the directors says: "The practice is working well and the new teacher gives satisfaction."

"THE WOMAN QUESTION."

To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: With due honor and thanks to Mr. Kelley, of Kansas, and Mr. Morey, of Ohio, for their fearless words in defence of the enfranchisement of women, I would say the time is not yet. Men, as a class, are not educated up to it. There is something appalling to the average male mind in the very thought of the "woman question." It was so away back, and will be so way ahead. Two thousand years ago, Cato, Oppian law, said: "Suffer women to arrive at an equality with you, and from that moment they become Manhatian, your superiors." Is this the fear of our Democratic Columbia, friends in Congress? Is it not rather the probable
